

The monograph research goal is to the decision-making improve on software security accuracy based on the synthesis of a mathematical models complex and the supporting decision-making on software security method.